
Toothy

I was able to get up prefishing a couple times for the upcoming event.

I cannot believe how much tackle I have lost to those toothy fish. They are all over those waters and seem to be eating everything I throw.

Fun enough to catch but really a pain when they take your best baits!:(

Sorry to hear your losing all your best baits....OK, actually I'm not. Maybe that will give me an edge:laugh:

Sorry to get your hopes up B3!

I forgot to mention, the best baits I've been using just happen to be the Victory Baits that I custom made for that dingy water.

I am actually sitting here right now replenishing my stock.:)
